

WE ARE NOW into the great season of Lent, when we spend six weeks preparing to celebrate the high point of our faith: the Paschal Mystery, the suffering, death and resurrection of the Incarnate God.

Even though we are no longer asked by the Church to observe the severe penances of former times, it is surely fitting that we make some form of preparation.

Our reflections should not only focus on the negative. What are the positive things which should be part and parcel of my daily life? What kind of a person am I in relation to my family, friends, working colleagues and other people with whom I come in contact? How active am I as a member of my Christian community e.g. my parish? What difference do I make to other people's lives? What do I do, within my limitations, to help eradicate the abuses which are part of our society? These are just some of the questions I can ask myself during these six weeks. And it is never too late to get started. Let us not rigidly think that, because Ash Wednesday has already come and gone, that I cannot start today. Remember that even those who came to the vineyard at the eleventh hour were paid the same amount. But the earlier I start the better.

Some of the things I can do are:

- Celebrating the Eucharist each day or at least on a few days in the week.
- Setting aside some part of my day for personal prayer.
- Reflecting on some Scripture, alone or, better still, with others. The Scripture readings for each day in Lent provide excellent material.
- Setting aside some money that I might spend on myself for a meal, entertainment or clothes and giving it to an organisation which takes care of the less fortunate in our society.
- Similarly, if I decide to abstain from smoking or alcohol.

Jesus' Lent

After his baptism, Jesus goes to the desert for forty days. And, during that time, he is tested by the Evil One. Mark does not say how – but Matthew and Luke do. These tests are really examples of the kind of tests that Jesus was to face in the course of his public life. The meaning and symbolism of the passage is to be focused on rather than its historical accuracy. Its purpose is to help us to understand the conflicts that were in Jesus' own life and which will also be found in ours too.

FIRST SUNDAY OF LENT - 20/21 FEBRUARY 2021

Entrance Antiphon:

When he calls on me, I will answer him; I will deliver him and give him glory, I will grant him length of days.

Response to the Psalm:

Your ways, O Lord, are love and truth to those who keep your covenant.

Gospel Acclamation:

Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ, king of endless glory!
No one lives on bread alone, but on every word that comes from the mouth of God.
Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ, king of endless glory!

Communion Antiphon:

One does not live by bread alone, but by every word that comes forth from the mouth of God.

Please remember in your prayers the following:

Those who have died:

Maria Casey
